schools were largely composed, would resent the idea of being taught by a colored woman, so she was given