the hospice must do the following before it seeks to discharge a patient for cause:

the effectiveness of any biomedical prevention technology relies on both biological efficacy and behavioral adherence