blood flow, lack of nitric oxide and neurological factors because it supposedly functions so rapidly, on top of that, we have parents blaming the energy drinks on why their kid with a known preexisting heart condition died